

I want the FCC to keep regulations in place for broadband service from telephone companies. I appreciate using an independent ISP and would not be pleased if such companies were negatively impacted over the long run by large phone companies charging variable (and potentially unsubstantiated) fees to and/or electing not to negotiate with small ISPs.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Michelle Brandt